MILITARY ACTIVITY (UPDATE)

INDIA/PAKISTAN BORDER

25X1

ABSTRACT

1. [] provided coverage of approximately 150 miles of the India/Pakistan border. A detailed search of four major areas, two in Pakistan and two in India, revealed the continued deployment of military personnel and equipment since the December 1971 war.

25X1

2. This report describes this activity in detail, graphically depicts specific locations, and provides a comparison to activity observed in January 1972 [] and July 1972 []

INTRODUCTION

3. [] covered approximately 150 miles of the India/Pakistan border in the Jammu/Lahore area []. This coverage was compared to similar coverage on []

25X1
25X1
25X1
25X1

[] The overall quality of the October photography was good.

4. A detailed search was made in the Jammu/Lahore area to a distance of at least 30 nautical miles (nm) on both sides of the border (as coverage allowed) to determine the disposition of military forces and equipment. Four major areas of military encampments were observable [] two in Pakistan--the Sialkot and Lahore areas--and two in India--the Jammu and Amritsar areas. The heaviest concentration of personnel and equipment was in the Sialkot area of Pakistan and the adjoining Jammu area of India.

25X1

5. A comparison of the major military cantonments along the Indian/Pakistan border was also made to determine the amount of activity inside the compounds with respect to that of the field-deployed forces and to the activity present in January and July 1972. Along the Pakistan side of the border, activity in the major cantonments (Kharian, Jhelum, Gujranwala, and Lahore) remained at the low postwar level observed in January and July 1972. Along the Indian side of the border, activity in the major cantonments (Akhnur West, Akhnur Barracks, Jammu, and Amritsar), except for one, also remained at the low postwar level. The one major change was at Akhnur Barracks Area Southwest [] which contained 1,650 personnel tents, 17 tanks, 182 cargo trucks, and 113 utility trucks. This activity was not present [] but was present [] and reported as deployed military activity.

BASIC DESCRIPTION

Pakistan

6. A total of 29 military camps and 27 vehicle parks containing 942 personnel tents, 744 cargo trucks, 214 utility trucks, 14 tanks, 21 tank transporters, 11 prime movers, 13 occupied field artillery (FA) sites, and three occupied possible antiaircraft artillery (AAA) sites were observed within a 30-nm strip along the border. These 56 military encampments were at scattered locations throughout the Sialkot and the Lahore special area. Changes in the locations of military encampments were apparent []

[]. All 29 military camps and 26 of the 27 vehicle parks were new since January, the old encampments having been disbanded. However, the total extent of the field-deployed camps and parks remained essentially the same in October. Since January 1972 there had been a decrease of 374 personnel tents, 160 utility trucks, 15 cargo trailers, and 27 occupied field artillery sites. However, there had been an increase of 347 cargo trucks, four tanks, and ten tank transporters. Deployed military activity in July 1972 included 11 military camps and 18 vehicle parks with 1,126 personnel tents, 563 cargo trucks, 276 utility trucks, seven tanks, and 21 tank transporters. No occupied FA sites were discernible.

Sialkot Area

7. Scattered throughout the Sialkot special area of Pakistan were 17 military camps and 22 vehicle parks with 609 personnel tents, 593 cargo trucks, and 168 utility trucks. INDIA

9. A total of 60 military camps and two vehicle parks containing 9,792 personnel tents, 1,053 cargo trucks, 189 utility trucks, 13 tanks, and 16 occupied FA sites were observed within a 30-nm strip along the border (as coverage allowed). These 62 military encampments were scattered throughout two major areas of India, the Jammu area and the Amritsar area (Figure 1). Changes in the locations of military encampments were apparent

Both vehicle parks and 57 of the 60 military camps were new since January, the old encampments having been disbanded. However, the total extent of the field-deployed camps and parks remained essentially the same in October 1972. Since January 1972 there had been an increase of 1,012 personnel tents and seven tanks. However, there had been a decrease of 215 cargo trucks, 189 utility trucks, and 15 occupied FA sites. Deployed military activity in July 1972 included 23 military camps and ten vehicle parks with 9,858 personnel tents, 1,165 cargo trucks, 203 utility trucks, 24 tanks, and 23 tank transporters. No occupied FA sites were discernible.

Jammu Area

10. Scattered throughout the Jammu special area of India were 40 military camps with 9,120 personnel tents, 917 cargo trucks, and 121 utility trucks. These totals represent, since 27 January 1972, an increase of 24 military camps, 621 personnel tents, and seven tanks. The large increase in military camps resulted from the division of several large camps into numerous smaller encampments. However, there had been a decrease of one vehicle park, 308 cargo trucks, 238 utility trucks, eight tank transporters, and 16 FA sites. Deployed military activity in July 1972 included 14 military camps and two vehicle parks with 9,321 personnel tents, 1,029 cargo trucks, 180 utility trucks, six tanks, and eight tank transporters.
